

RESOLUTION ORDERS NEW LEVY PETITION

City Will Make New Attempt Before
Election Board to Have 2 Mill
Election Declared Valid.

MANY PAVING PETITIONS

City Commission Will Purchase New Five-Ton Truck and Plow for Cleaning Tulsa Streets.

A petition to the county commission by the city attorney asking that an 8 mill tax levy be allowed in the city for revenue purposes was authorized in resolutions adopted yesterday by the board of city commissioners at its regular weekly meeting. The resolutions empowered Edward P. Marshall, city attorney, to ask the election board to reconsider its decision made Thursday overruling the 2 mill levy election and to grant the royal 2 mill assessment.

Petitions for two new paving petitions were presented to the board and approved. Residents on East 21st will ask the paving of Haskell Avenue from the west line of Madison to the west line of Peoria. Residents of Fifth from the west line of Lewis to the east line of Cleveland. Both petitions were approved and were turned over to the city engineer for investigation and report.

Resolutions to further the improvement of Norfolk, Newport and Dawson avenues, Walnut place, Fourteenth street and Greenridge place were adopted by the commission. City ordinance No. 1994, vacating the streets and alleys, was also adopted and approved. The commission voted to purchase a new five-ton truck and plow for cleaning city streets, at a cost of $15,000.

FATHER FORGETS DAUGHTER IN NAMING BENEFICIARIES

Calling at the home office of the Red Cross some days ago to learn whether the insurance of her deceased husband who died in the service, included an eight-year-old daughter as a beneficiary or whether the whole was made out to the man's second wife, Mrs. Augusta Hulme, found that the child had not been remembered in the insurance, but learned through the Red Cross that the little girl was entitled to compensation.

Upon instructions from Washington papers were made out when F. L. Long, Red Cross attorney, went with Mrs. Hulme to the court house and had her appointed guardian. The child is to receive $20 each month.

Jazz Parson to Remove Lid and Slam Tulsa Hypocrites

The jazz preacher is going to take the lid off tomorrow night.

"I intend to tell them what I think of Tulsa, particularly the religious side of the city," said Rev. Harold G. Cooke, who will preach on the subject "Spotlighting the Church" at his Sunday night service at Tiger Memorial church.

Tulsa is the most widely advertised city in the world, Wright, he continued, adding his light was dimmed. There are a few things that the church going people of Tulsa ought to wake up to, he believes, and the popular minister promised to frankly and fearlessly "tell it to them."

For the special feature of his service Reverend Cooke has again secured the famous Russian dancer, Bascha Baevitch, Chinese grand opera singer who is making his home in Tulsa. Baevitch has sung for the royal families of several European capitals and has toured

Policemen Act as Good
Samaritans to Amateur
Cyclist in Tough Luck

The champion bicycle rider of the world slept soundly last night on a bench at the police station. No, he had not been arrested for speeding.

Tom Powell, who has spent the entire 17 years of his career on a farm near the town of Ava in Douglas county, Missouri, arrived uninvited early Friday morning.

Tom, whose father and mother died long ago, decided to go to Claremore to live with his uncle. His only possession was a bicycle. On this he rode over the rough Ozark country from Ava to Monett which is about 143 miles, afeat which Sergeant Bob Jones of the police station declares entitles the country boy to championship honors.

At Monett Tom learned that the railroad fare to his destination was $3.75. He sold his wheel for $4.00 bought his ticket, and spent the spare change for a ham sandwich. He got on the train, told the conductor to put him off at Claremore and then went to sleep. When he awoke the train had passed Claremore and was pulling into Tulsa.

To the trees and bushes he had strayed in this city without a "pal." Claremore seemed a hundred miles away. He didn't have any bicycle either. However, his troubles vanished when the night force at the police station passed the hat and made up a collection big enough to take him to his destination.

ARGUMENT OVER LONE MULE INVOLVES $5,000 IN BOND

Mandalus action to compel Sheriff James Woolley to deliver to the posse one black mare mule for which the latter claim they made a replevin bond in the sum of $5,000 after the replevin of the animal was filed in district court Friday by A. M. Lind and C. W. Lind.

The petitioners claim the animal was taken from their possession on a replevin action by K. W. Gantz and although they have made a reasonable offer to pay the amount in question, Sheriff Woolley has refused to place the animal in their possession pending a hearing of the case in court.
